

The background is a collage of various materials. On the left, there's a white rectangular block with a clear glass dome on top. Below it is a piece of white marble with dark blue veins. In the center is a large vertical strip of light brown wood with a vertical grain. To the right of the wood is a light gray textured surface with two dried, pressed leaves. At the bottom, there's a white rectangular block, a small square brass plate with a hole, and a piece of light-colored felt.
